

Good evening CLC family and friends,

Due to the weather forecast for Sunday, all activities (Services, Sunday School & Adult Study) at Cheshire Lutheran Church are canceled for tomorrow (Jan. 25). Single digit temperatures in the early morning are expected to be followed by snow starting between 8 and 9 AM, with hourly snowfall rates increasing into the afternoon; the storm will likely continue into Monday and many places have already announced closures for that day as well. Please stay safe and stay warm during this storm.

For anyone who is interested, the live stream of our service from January 22, 2023 – which had the same Bible readings that are assigned for tomorrow - can be found on the Church's YouTube Channel or by clicking on this link:

I have also attached the Service Pages from that Sunday three years ago to this email, should anyone wish to follow along with that service.

God bless and keep you,

Pastor Rowold
